

Dedicated: Ali Scott, left, and Nat Kessell, right, with fellow WODS members, from left, Bev Priets, Anna Gibbons, Mark Bennett, Megan Scanlon, Jamie Howse, Louise Nutt, Richy Brown, Lizzy Hardy, Jimmy Coxon-Green and Cathy Wilson

Latest show will astound audiences

ACTORS from Worle Operatic and Drama Society are busy rehearsing for their forthcoming production.

WODS is a group of people dedicated to performing musical shows for audiences in North Somerset.

It produces two shows a year and its latest production is the award-winning Return to the Forbidden Planet from April 23 to 25. This show introduces strange unearthly creatures, sweeping asteroids and the crew of the good ship Starship Albatross.

It promises to astound audiences with the wizardry of the wronged Prospero, his daughter Miranda and Captain Tempest.

The show takes place at the intimate Blakehay Theatre in Weston-super-Mare and is set to classic rock'n'roll numbers from the Fifties, Sixties and Seventies.

Tickets are £8.50 for adults and £7.50 for concessions and are available from www.ticketsource.co.uk/worleoperatic or call the Blakehay for more information on 01934 832 286.