Shop open for business

FUN and fear combine to hilarious effect in Worle Operatic and Dramatic Society's latest production.

Actors and actresses from the group will appear in Little Shop of Horrors at the Blakehay in Wadham Street, Weston, from today (Thurs) until Saturday.

The tale follows the adventures of Seymour Krelbourn, a florist's assistant whose life is turned around when he comes across an unusual plant.

Naming the plant Audrey II after the sales girl he is in love with, Seymour tries to grow it to no avail until he finds out its true diet - humans.

With many new and familiar faces playing a host of weird and wonderful characters, it promises to be an unforgettable show.

Little Shop of Horrors follows hot on the heels of the group's successes with 42nd Street, Godspell and Return To The Forbidden Planet.

The shows start at 7.30pm, with a Saturday matinee at 2.30pm.

Tickets, priced £8.50, are available at the theatre or via www.worleoperatic.co.uk/tickets
