Halloween fever in Weston

Creepy critters and terrifying ghouls could be spotted around Weston this week as the Halloween celebrations were in full swing.

The Helicopter Museum, in Locking Moor Road hosted its annual family fun day which saw youngsters climb onboard a haunted helicopter.

At Puxton Park, in Cowslip Lane, people were able to get up close and personal with creepy critters and creepy crocodiles.

The Grand Pier's Unfairground saw people tackle their fears in the asylum maze, try to fend of zombies at the infestation zone and risk a ride on the gruesome ghost train.

Children dressed in their best costumes to win fancy dress competitions and were also out and about in the town collecting sweets while trick or treating.

Pick up a copy of the Weston Mercury tomorrow (Thursday) for a spread of photos from Halloween around the town.
